METRO ONE SIGNS ENHANCED DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE CONTRACT WITH CALLINGCARDS.COM

PORTLAND, Oregon – June 25, 2007 – Metro One Telecommunications, Inc. (Nasdaq: INFO), a developer and provider of Enhanced Directory Assistance® (“EDA”) and other enhanced telecom services, today announced that it has entered into a multi-year contract to provide EDA and other services to users of CallingCards.Com prepaid calling cards.

CallingCards.Com is owned and operated by Universal Calling Inc. With more than 15.4 million cards emailed, CallingCards.Com is one of the largest online wholesalers and master distributors of prepaid calling cards.

“Adding Metro One’s directory assistance search capability to CallingCards.Com calling cards will provides a valuable convenience feature unavailable previously,” said Gary E. Henry, President and Chief Executive Officer of Metro One Telecommunications. “We are especially excited to be entering into this relationship with CallingCards.Com because their large customer base has a long history of remaining extremely loyal. We will be adding a tremendous new cost saving feature for these users and a new source of revenue for CallingCards.com.”

“Metro One worked hard to develop an appropriate offering for our customer base,” said Tom Krishan, President of CallingCards.Com. “We are excited to bring our customers the same 411 directory assistance service that traditional telecom providers offer, but at a lower cost that encourages use and makes it easier to access needed information.”
